INTERNATIONAL STUDY VISITS CALL

The International Study Visits program offers foreign practitioners a unique opportunity to learn directly from Operational Groups (OGs). Each visit will include a direct visit to the OG in the selected country and will share the activities and developments of three different OGs by inviting their representatives to the study visit location. Participants will acquire valuable knowledge to transfer to their own countries, promoting the diffusion of the multi-actor approach and innovations in the forestry and agroforestry sectors.

 Please note that the costs associated with your participation at the event (travelling, accommodation, food, mileage, field visit...) will be covered by the organizers.
